

COMMUNICATION MINOR

The Communication minor provides an opportunity to develop effective communication skills that improve interaction with others in both spoken and written form. This minor complements many different majors, as these skills are beneficial and sought after in a wide range of professions.