

ECONOMICS MINOR

The Economics minor provides students with a foundational understanding of public policy and economic dynamics, while building financial literacy that is valuable in a wide range of careers. In addition to the minor's core requirements, students may select from a variety of electives that complement interests in finance, data analytics, business, sports management, history, and environmental studies.

Code	Title	Credits	Completed
Minor Requirements (20 credits)
Core Requirements
ISECON-104	Intro to Macroeconomics	4	_____
ECON-103	Intro to Microeconomics	4	_____
ECON-204	Intermediate Macroeconomics	4	_____
Electives
Two upper-level ECON courses at the 300 or 400 level		8	_____
Total Credits		20	_____

Mathematics competence at the level of MATH-141 Introductory Statistics is highly recommended.

Upon completion of the Economics Minor, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate the ability to think abstractly.
- Demonstrate the awareness of the assumptions behind different paradigms.
- Demonstrate the knowledge of trade-offs faced by economic policy makers.
- Demonstrate how price signals lead to resource allocation in a market economy.
- Demonstrate the links between the fate of the US economy and global flows of goods and labor.
- Demonstrate basic economic literacy.
- Demonstrate the ability to apply tools of economic analysis to real world phenomena and increases.
- Demonstrate proficiency with economic data and graphs.
- Demonstrate awareness of links between economics and other disciplines.
- Demonstrate an ability to apply the tools of economic analysis to real world phenomena.
- Demonstrate an ability to think logically and critically about economic issues.
- Demonstrate proficiency with economic models.
- Demonstrate an ability to conduct and present economic research.